Students Leaders Association of Machakos University Induction

The newly elected SAMU leaders induction held on the 8th and 9th of April 2026 focused on strengthening leadership and governance among the student leaders. The key training areas included office etiquette, communication, and corporate governance.

Machakos University Vice Chancellor, Prof. Joyce Agalo, urged the leaders to build a strong legacy through servant leadership, adherence to protocol, and mentorship. She emphasized fairness and accountability, particularly in bursary allocation. The DVC - APF advised the leaders to adopt authentic and innovative leadership skills. The DVC-ASA, as head of student affairs, urged the leaders to keep a good legacy and maintain communication between the management and students

The Legal Officer, Ms. Mumbi Mwihuri, highlighted the importance of aligning leadership with the Constitution of Kenya, the Universities Act, and the SAMU Constitution.

A conflict resolution session by RIAP Education and Training Consultants equipped leaders with practical skills in managing disputes.

The university management further challenged the team to lead with integrity, communicate effectively, and deliver on their mandate while creating a lasting impact.

Bridging the Gap to Leadership: Why the SAMU Induction Matters

Participating in the recent induction program for newly elected student leaders at Machakos University was both an honour and a transformative experience. The sessions provided a vital bridge from campaign momentum to effective governance, equipping us with a deeper understanding of our roles and responsibilities.

The engagement fostered renewed energy and clarity of purpose, as we interacted with University management and seasoned mentors who demystified institutional processes.

It was both grounding and empowering, offering practical tools to navigate the demands of student leadership.

We emerged as a united and confident team, committed to championing transparency, collaboration, and effective representation in service to the Machakos University community.

We extend our sincere gratitude to Machakos University for organizing such an impactful induction program and for its continued support in nurturing effective student leadership.

Strengthening Strategic Partnerships

On Wednesday, 8th April 2026, Machakos University Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Joyce J. Agalo, paid a courtesy visit to Ms. Rachael Kisilu, the Institute Director at KALRO AMRI Katumani.

Accompanied by the Deputy Vice-Chancellors (Academic & Student Affairs), Prof. James Muola, and CPA, Prof. Florence Memba (Administration, Planning & Finance), the Vice-Chancellor held strategic discussions focused on expanding student practicums and strengthening collaborative research.

The engagement reaffirmed a shared commitment to advancing research, innovation, and student development, further positioning Machakos University as a hub for practical, industry-linked learning..

Design Students Explore the Iconic African Heritage House!

Design Students from Machakos University visited the iconic African Heritage House on 7th April 2026, one of the world's most photographed architectural masterpieces.

Bathed in natural light and artistic brilliance, every space tells a story, offering students a powerful, immersive experience.

For the design students, the visit was truly inspiring, reaffirming the power of design in preserving culture, expressing identity, and evoking emotion.

Set on the edge of Nairobi's wilderness, the house is a stunning blend of African architecture, culture, and history, inspired by the traditional mud mosques of Mali.

Inside, it comes alive as a rich gallery of rare artifacts, intricate masks, beadwork, textiles, and sculptures that celebrate Africa's diverse heritage.

Moving forward, we will continue exploring new opportunities, strengthening our market presence, and supporting sustainable growth across all business sectors.

From Freshers to Finalists

Pride and anticipation marked Machakos University's finalists' send-off, celebrating the close of one chapter and the start of another.

Inspiring remarks from Vice-Chancellor Prof. Joyce Agalo and keynote speaker CPA Moses Mwariri equipped students for life beyond campus.

More than a farewell, the event celebrated growth, leadership, and resilience as graduates transition into the Alumni Association with purpose and promise.
